215-216 Room 105. A Soviet sentry stands in front of this door. Soldiers from the same guard detail stand duty in front of rooms 105 and 235. They wear red piping. They are armed with carbines slung over the shoulder. The guards are changed every two to four hours. There is a Soviet officer in charge of this guard detail. The guard detail has billets on the eighth floor at USIG. This guard detail formerly came from the Berlin-Weissensee Headquarters; it now comes from Berlin-Karlshorst. Room 105 contains the USIG seal. Also in room 105 is an incinerator for burning documents. Cleaning of room 105 is done only by Russian personnel. The Soviet occupants of room 105 are jokingly referred to by the USIG Germans as "Freemasons". (see 225)
